PA One Call ups rate, but members still get fee waived

Good news for PBA members: Despite PA One Call raising its annual charge from $50 to $100 in 2010, the service is still free through the association’s member benefits program. By law, any member planning to dig must contact PA One Call at least three business days prior to excavation. Members should give their PA One Call invoice to their local builders association’s executive officer, who will, in turn, fax it to PBA for processing. Last year alone, 825 members used this benefit for a total savings of $41,250. In 2010, the savings will be even greater. For more information, contact Jerry Leach at PBA at 717-730-4380, ext. 3012, or e-mail jleach@PaBuilders.org.

Put PBA benefits to work for your bottom line

PBA has a myriad of benefits that are designed specifically to help keep your business growing and profitable. These benefits, ranging from discounts on products to on-staff experts here to assist with your building code questions, are available to all members free of charge. PBA has created a Benefits Guide listing 30 of our most popular member benefits. The guide gives a short description of each benefit and provides a staff name and contact information so you can easily learn more. You can access the guide on the PBA home page at www.PaBuilders.org.

Make the most of the member services your dues make possible

PBA may seem far away from most members, but don’t let the physical distance keep you from getting the assistance you need to help your business run better. PBA staff is only a phone call or e-mail away, and your dues make available a host of wonderful resources – like expert building code and regulatory advice – and access to free or discounted educational seminars. If you aren't sure of who to call at PBA 800-692-7339.

'Consumer' section at PaBuilders.org can help you land new customers

Members are encouraged to link potential customers to the "Consumer" section of PBA's web site at www.PaBuilders.org. The consumer section is full of information consumers can use in their decision to build or remodel a home, such as how to hire a reputable contractor, what to focus on in a remodeling job, where to find loans for construction jobs and much more.
